In the raffle of the diamond shirt stud which was held at the Umatilla House Thursday night J. McKinney held the winning number, it being 56.

The Sarah Dixon did not arrive until after 10:30 last night, having gone as far as Warren's cannery before meeting the Baker, where a transfer of freight and passengers was made.

Yesterday morning a man was found lying on the O. R. & N. track near Viento evidently in a dying condition. The section foreman telephoned to The Dalles for medical assistance, but before a doctor could reach the man he was dead. Coroner Butts left on the 3:20 train today to hold an inquest over the remains.

The steamer D. S. Baker yesterday morning took up from Portland a crew of 12 men and a number of heavy timbers to the wreck of the Regulator, for the purpose of attempting to raise the steamer off the rocks. A scow was also towed up to be used in repairing the wrecked craft. The boilers and other heavy machinery will be removed, after which it will be a comparatively easy matter to raise the boat and take it to Portland for repairs.

About 3 o'clock this morning Stadelman's team, which was attached to the ice wagon, started for home from the East End without the driver, and, judging from the rate they were going when they passed up Second street, his absence did not detract from their speed in the least. When last seen they were still going, and as they did not have the pieces gathered up at the time of going to press, we cannot make an estimate of the damage.

The Umatilla Indians have concluded their Fourth-of-July celebration. It began on the 3rd and ended on the 12th. About 700 Indians, including visitors from other agencies in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, participated. The principal amusements of the Indians were dancing, horse racing, parades, gambling and loitering in the shade. The gambling game was "stick," and money, blankets, hats and saddles were won and lost. This game is one purely of chance, and becomes exciting to the Indian, but he is always fair in his dealings. Whenever he loses he gives up his goods as freely as he takes them when he wins.

Yesterday her friends gave a pleasant coaching party and picnic up Mill creek in honor of Miss Annie Wentz, who is visiting in the city. Taking the wagonette and driver by storm, the young ladies found the coolest spot that Mill creek affords and there spent the day, returning when the evening was cool. Those who had the pleasure of being the participants were Misses Anna Wentz, Lena and Tillie Liebe, Eda Fisher, Nettie Fredden, Effie and Vesta Bolton, Julia Nickelsen, Grace Hobson, Annie Thompson and Miss Jacoby.

The O. R. & N. has let to Hale & Smith a contract for improving the railroad track for a distance of eight miles westward from Viento station, which is about thirty miles from here. The contract includes the taking out of curvatures, filling in where trestles now are, and completing a new grade, all of which will cost $190,000. This is a continuation of the system of track improvement begun early in the year, by which the condition of the road along the Columbia river is being vastly improved. Upon the new grade new 75-pound rails will be laid by the company, as has been done along the other stretches of the line. The contract with Hale & Smith has nothing to do with tracklaying however. This firm has been at work on the O. R. & N. contracts all the year. Work on the new contract will begin at once, and it is to be completed before January 1st.

A man answering the description given by Lane county authorities of Claude Branton, wanted for murder, has been seen at different points in Grant county. E. L. Robbins, who arrived in Long Creek the other day from Canyon City, said the supposed murderer was seen by different persons in or near that city who had ample opportunity to converse with him and thoroughly scrutinize him. He said there seemed no doubt that it was Branton. He was driving a horse attached to a cart and was making very fast time when on the road away from the more thickly settled parts. Some time after his departure from Canyon City, officers started in pursuit and traced him for twenty miles to the Allen store in Fox valley, six miles south of Long Creek. It was ascertained there that the fugitive had been seen at that place Monday morning.

day morning. Nothing more has been seen or heard of him since, although the entire country, which is thickly settled, has been scoured by searchers. Sunday's Daily.

Mr. Samuel Brooks reports that Friday evening he witnessed a very brilliant meteor east of here, or in the direction of Mr. Floyd's place, on 5-Mile. It was visible through the clouds for about fifteen seconds and was moving in a northeasterly direction.

Walter Isenberg, of Hood River, was hurt on Tuesday while at work at Day-ent's flume. A scantling fell from the top of the flume, 25 feet, and came on his head. He was knocked senseless, and it was about ten minutes before he revived. He received bruises on his forehead, cheeks and chin.

Yesterday the painters began work on the new school building in the Academy park. The plastering is almost finished and the floor of the second story is already laid. The carpenters will begin work up stairs Monday and will complete the building as rapidly as possible so that when school opens it will be fully completed and ready for use.

Friday evening a special meeting of the school board was held for the purpose of electing a clerk to succeed the late George P. Morgan. Charles Schmidt was chosen to the position and in this choice the board showed excellent judgment, since a better man for the position could not be found or one who would attend more conscientiously to the work.

Mrs. Burlingame, of Dufur, is very sick and small hope of her recovery is entertained. Today Drs. Dietrich, Ellwood and Giesendorfer performed a surgical operation on her. The left kidney was found badly diseased, floating in the abdominal cavity. It was sewed in place; but the weakened condition of the lady renders her recovery almost impossible.

Harbison Bros., of Hood River, put up fifteen tons of clover hay off four and a half acres of ground this year. Last season the same piece of ground gave eighteen acres at the first cutting and ten tons at the second. It is always lodged and badly tangled, but the mowers drive right through without much difficulty by fixing a stick about four and a half feet long on the divider board in place of the usual short one.

Yesterday morning Peter Stadelman met with a painful accident. When the team started to run away with the ice wagon, he attempted to descend hurriedly from the upper floor of the ice house, and in so doing brought his arm in contact with a nail, inflicting a bad cut in the wrist. Dr. Hollister put several stitches in the wound, and he is getting along nicely at present.

The local forecast official informs us that .01 of an inch of rain fell yesterday morning about 6 o'clock. Several refreshing showers are reported in the country south and east of here. Reports from Dufur are to the effect that they had quite a fall of rain there yesterday. This will be of great value in filling the grain which is beginning to ripen, though it may injure some of it, which is already in a condition to cut.

Yesterday evening the square between French & Co.'s bank and Nielsen's corner was well occupied for a time. On one corner was the Salvation Army, on another a peddler selling gips, across the street was an individual advertising and selling a perpetual calendar, while across from Senfert & Condon's telephone office was the advertiser of the improved 18k oil painting, presided over by Prof. Raymond, who drew by far the largest crowd and furnished more amusement than all the rest combined.

It is expected that the usual large crowd will take advantage of the cheap rates on the excursion to Hood River, Cascade Locks, Bonneville and Multnomah Falls today. In order to better accommodate the excursionists an extra car will be put on both ways so that seating room can be found by all. It is certainly a treat for people who are forced to spend warm weather at home to be able to get out in the mountains on Sunday with such little cost.

The Mountaineer gave it out yesterday evening that the bodies of the two Indian women who were drowned a few days since had been found near the mouth of 5-Mile. In this they must have been misinformed, since we could learn nothing from anyone in the vicinity in which the bodies were reported to have been found that would confirm the report.

Last evening the Salvation Army were out on the street in their international march, and their make-ups were quite amusing, all the different nations being represented. Brigadier Marshal, commander of the Northern Pacific division of the Salvation Army, Staff Captain Willis, and Ensigns Park and Wilson were also present. After the usual services were held on the street, the army led the large crowd to the barracks, where a lengthy meeting was held. The singing and other services were unusually good.

Elizabeth Jane Quick Smith, who died at Hood River, July 10th, was born in Illinois, February 18, 1841. In 1852 she crossed the plains to Oregon with her parents, was married in 1863 to Charles H. Haynes, a pioneer and an Indian war veteran. About 1874, with her husband, she went to Hood River and resided at Haynes spur, where her husband died in 1888. On May 20, '97, she was married to Lyman Smith, long a resident of Hood River, but now of Astoria. Two months ago Mrs. Smith was taken ill and came from Astoria to Hood River, hoping to regain her health among the health-giving hills where she had spent so many days in vigorous womanhood. Physicians pronounce her malady cancer of the stomach. She was taken to Portland where specialists could do nothing for her, and she returned to Hood River to die. Mrs. Smith was a true-hearted Christian woman. She left a husband, an adopted son, William Haynes; a grandson, Bruce Morton, 12 years old, and three sisters. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church.

Tuesday's Daily.

The adjourned church meeting, which was to have been held this (Tuesday) evening at the Congregational church, will be postponed until Tuesday evening, July 26th.

The Endeavorers of the Christian church will give a shadow and ice cream social on the lawn of Mr. Geo. Miller, next door to the church, on Friday evening, July 22d. Everybody invited.

The Lewiston Tribune says: The Somers Family Concert Company gave one of their first-class entertainments at the Masonic Opera House, Monday night to a large, delighted and enthusiastic audience.

Mrs. A. C. Stubling & Son will soon begin on the erection of a new hot house especially for the culture of carnations and violets. The increasing trade makes this necessary and Mrs. Stubling feels that her efforts will be appreciated by her patrons.

The scores at the Dalles Commercial and Athletic Club alleys were as follows for last week: Monday, A. S. Bennett, 53; Tuesday, Vic Schmidt, 55; Wednesday, M. T. Nolan, 57; Thursday, M. T. Nolan, 55; Friday, no score; Saturday, M. T. Nolan, 52; Sunday, J. F. Hampshire, 49.

On Friday evening, weather permitting, the Good Templars will give one of their enjoyable lawn socials in the Academy park. A pleasant evening is promised one and all, so don't miss it. Ice cream and cake will be furnished at the low price of 15c.

Thursday evening, July 21st the Somers Family Musical Comedy Company will appear at the Baldwin opera house in one of their first-class up-to-date programs of chorus singing, Solos, duets, comic songs, character songs, duet and Irish songs and Dutch specialties.

At the Umatilla House alleys the exceptionally high average score of 67.1-7 was made for the week. The following were the daily score: Monday, Chas. Schmidt, jr., 66; Tuesday, H. Maetz, 63; Wednesday, N. J. Sinnott, 68; Thursday, Wm. Birgfeld, 67; Friday, H. Esping, 74; Saturday, H. Esping, 71; Sunday, H. Esping, 61.

The work of removing the machinery from the Steamer Regulator is being hurried as much as possible and in a short time the mechanics will be able to raise the unfortunate craft and float it to Portland, where it will be thoroughly repaired. Both the Dalles City and Inland Flyer will soon be in shape to ply on the Columbia between The Dalles and Portland.

An informal meeting of the Emergency Corps was held last evening at the Umatilla House parlor. In regard to the constitution and by-laws, Miss Annie Lang took the responsibility of attending to the same. She will have a list at the land office, which the members are requested to sign as soon as possible. When the list is complete it will be sent to Portland and the badges will be forwarded on receipt of the names.

The Mukwonago Chief, of Mukwonago, Wisconsin, says in its issue of July 14th: "Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Sargeant, of The Dalles, Or., are visiting their niece, Mrs. A. A. Crocker. Mr. Sargeant is a brother of the late Otis F. Sargeant, and his last visit here was in '93. They arrived here Saturday night. Mrs. Hall, of Chicago, a sister of Mrs. Sargeant, is also a guest at the same home. A grand-daughter, Miss Katherine, is with them of their trip, which is an extended one. Mr. and Mrs. Sargeant are in their 80th year, but by no means look it."

Farmers are already beginning to figure on the yield per acre of their wheat and although their estimate is apparently high, there is little doubt that it will reach their highest estimation. In one field of 300 acres, near Dufur, belonging to Andrew Dufur, many are ready to wager that it will produce at least forty bushels. Johnston Bros. have a piece about the same size adjoining Mr. Dufur's, while equally good grain is to be found in all parts of the county. The grain crop of 1898 will not only fill the farmer's purse, but be a cause of raising the price of farm lands in this section.

Just before the train bearing the Bonneville excursionists pulled out of the union depot at Portland Sunday morning, A. F. Burton, a painter by occupation, was arrested for having picked the pocket of Mrs. F. Gilbert. Burton had mingled with the crowd of picnickers, and during the crush through the platform gates, Mrs. Gilbert's daughter saw she saw him put his hand in her pocket and extract the purse. Miss Gilbert promptly gave the alarm and Barton was arrested. The purse was found on the sidewalk at his feet. He asserts his innocence of the charge. Burton formerly lived in this city, and had been in Portland only a few weeks. His friends say that he is a hard-working man and has always born a good reputation.

It has long been known that there are rich coal deposits near Astoria and much prospecting has been done, although with indifferent success. A valuable discovery was made Saturday morning, inside the city limits. Gordin & Nelson, the contractors, who are opening up a street over the hill to connect with the proposed Young's bay bridge, while grading on Eighth street, near Madison avenue, unearthed several large pieces of coal. The coal proved to be of very good quality, and it is undoubtedly the outcropping of a ledge several feet below. The hole in which it was found is about twenty feet deep, and the graders are determined to further investigate the deposit. A quantity of the coal was thrown upon a fire and burned freely.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

The Unknown Man Killed Near Viento Proves to be Frank Anderson.

Saturday afternoon Coroner Butts held an inquest over the remains of the unknown man found near Viento, the verdict being as follows:

HITCHCOCK R. R. CAMP, Near Viento, Oregon, July 16, 1898. We, the undersigned jury, summoned by W. H. Butts, coroner of Wasco county, Oregon, to inquire into the death of the body now before us, find that the name of the deceased was Frank Anderson, also known by the name of Burke, aged about 50 years; height about 5 feet 5 inch; weight about 160 pounds; fair complexion, blue eyes, brown hair, light mustache; that he came to his death by falling over a cliff about 35 feet high back of Hitchcock's camp near Viento, on the night of July 14, 1898.

F. B. CRANE, C. E. SIMMONS, JOE MULLETT, JOE COLLINS, FRANK OLSEN, H. R. OTTE, F. NORTH.

The Somers Family appeared at the Columbia last night and presented a pleasing program. It consisted of a concert first part, while the second part was devoted to specialties, most of which were very clever. The smaller children are born comedians, and they kept the audience convulsed with laughter. Miss Nellie Somers possesses a voice of rare sweetness and remarkable range, and her singing completely captivated the audience.—Boise Statesman. They play at the Baldwin opera house, in this city, Thursday evening, July 21st.

LAUNCH THAT FAILED.

The Dalles City Shows a Disinclination for Water.

The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Co. is having a run of bad luck just at present, and have one of their steamers hard and fast on the rocks near the Cascades, and another stuck on the ways just across the Morrison-street bridge. Joseph Supple has just completed a fine hull for the Dalles City and has also made a number of improvements in her house and upper works. He had not intended to launch the new craft for a few days, but when the Regulator was sunk last Tuesday, leaving the company very much in need of a boat, he hurried the work along and had everything ready for the launching at 6:30 Thursday evening. All the blocks were removed, and the steamer rested prettily on the ways, waiting for the men to cut the ropes which held her. There were five of these, and the three in the middle were cut first, leaving those at the ends to be severed by Mr. Supple, who stood at the stern, and one of his workmen, at the bow.

At the word, both axes fell, and the steamer made a beautiful start. In nearly all launches where the machinery is in the boat, the bow gets started first, but the heavier weight in the stern comes to the rescue as the craft gains headway, and both move evenly. In the case of the Dalles City, the bow moved very slowly, while the stern started off with a rush, gaining such headway that the weight of the boat was too much for the ways, which slewed around to one side, dumping the stern of the boat down near the water's edge and leaving the bow well up on the bank. The craft went around so easily that but little damage was done, the hull showing no signs of a strain, but catching and resting too heavily on the keel near the stern on a timber that was under the ways. This damage will not amount to much, and Mr. Supple expects to straighten her up, and have all damages repaired and the craft in the water soon.—Oregonian.

SPECIAL ORDERS TO MILITIAMEN

Orders to Those Desiring to Join the Oregon Militia From Adjutant-General Tuttle.

The following are extracts from the special orders, No. 17, issued by Adjutant-General Tuttle to the Dalles young men who are anxious to be organized into a company:

PORTLAND, Or., July 14, 1898. SPECIAL ORDERS, No. 17.

V. Edward D. Baldwin and forty-four other citizens of The Dalles, subject to military duty, having applied to be organized into a military company under the laws of Oregon and the regulations of the Oregon National Guard, they are directed to assemble at the Armory at The Dalles, Oregon, at eight o'clock, p. m., on Tuesday, July 19, 1898, for physical examination. All applicants for enlistment having successfully passed the physical examination, will assemble at the armory at eight p. m., on Wednesday, July 20th, for muster into the service of the state.

VII. Lieut. H. G. Jeffers, assistant surgeon, will conduct the physical examination on the date above directed, being governed by a circular governing recruiting for the Oregon National Guard, issued from this office, dated June 15, 1898.

VIII. Colonel James Jackson, inspector general, is designated mustering officer, and will act as inspector of election, pursuant to regulations.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief. B. B. TUTTLE, Adjutant-General.

The company of Lieutenant Bartell and the above mentioned company of Edward D. Baldwin will be consolidated so as to form a strong company. Any one desiring to be a member should make application as soon as possible.

Master Items.

Miss Dollie Mosier arrived home from Portland last week. C. A. Bryant has a full force of men at work in the mines at present. Miss Agnes Watt, who is visiting in Pendleton, will arrive home soon. Mr. C. A. Cramer, of Mosier, left for Seaside Monday last to spend the summer. The sawmill of Deputy Sheriff Fisher, of this place, is running on full time again. Miss Bentley, of Salem, has arrived in Mosier to teach a ten-weeks' term of school. Ed. B. Wood, of Mosier, was in The Dalles last Tuesday attending to legal business. The new building of Fisher & Co.'s sawmill in South Mosier is quite an addition to that end of town.
